MEMBERSHIP INFORMATION

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA HERB SOCIETY

The C-U Herb Society began in October, 1975, when eight local women decided to study the lore and uses of herbs. As their interest and membership grew, they planted a garden at Meadowbrook Park in Urbana; this garden has evolved over time yet remains a lovely gem in the community, maintained by Herb Society members. Throughout the years, some of the activities, locations, and of course, members have changed, but the premises on which the Herb Society were founded remain:

1. To study the history, cultivation and use of herbs;
2. To encourage interest in herbs; and
3. To develop and maintain herb gardens that are open to the public.

The C-U Herb Society is a not-for-profit organization. We are affiliated with the Urbana Park District. We do not endorse any claims regarding medicinal or nutritional uses of herbs.

The public garden at Meadowbrook Park is maintained by C-U Herb Society members. We also donate gardening-related books and journal subscriptions to area public libraries, and conduct an annual sale of herb plants. In addition, we provide mini-grants annually to C-U area schools and non-profit community organizations.

Meetings are held at 7:00 PM on the first Wednesday of the month from February through December. Unless it is otherwise specified, regular meetings are held in Room W115 of the Tony Noel Agricultural Technology Applications Center at Parkland College (address: 2400 West Bradley Ave., Champaign, IL). During the summer months we enjoy visiting local gardens.

A newsletter, Sprigs of Thyme, keeps herb society members informed of upcoming activities, such as workshops, annual potluck, field trips, and plant exchange.

Membership

The C-U Herb Society is open to anyone interested in finding out more about herbs, herbal lore, culinary and medicinal uses of herbs. Basic membership fee is $15 a year.
